Mayor's Report to Council 19th July 2017

John Biggs, Mayor of Tower Hamlets

This appears to be the first routine Mayor's report since January 2017. Normal business was interrupted by both the budget and the Council AGM. I am disappointed that we do not meet more often, to hold me and the Council, to account at formal Council meetings. However, there has been plenty happening, as my diary list will tell you, and I have remained accountable both through Council structures and to the wider public through public meetings and events.

Because of the passage of time there is almost too much to report. Selected highlights are below.

Key Events/Announcements

General Election: Our 2 sitting MPs, Rushanara Ali and Jim Fitzpatrick were returned with significantly increased majorities. Sadly, this means that Cllr Oliur Rahman's dream was cruelly thwarted. But there is of course a silver lining as the excellent continuing service of our two experienced MPs, a forceful presence for the borough, will continue.

Relations with Government: It is too early to say what if any changes there will be in Council funding or Government policy affecting the Council. However, with a hung parliament controversial legislation should be less likely. It may also be that education cuts will be reduced or withdrawn.

Education Cuts: I recently joined with parents, teachers and pupils the presentation of a petition to the Secretary of State at the Department for Education. The breadth of concern about education cuts and their disproportionate impact on Tower Hamlets schools is evidence of the severe threat we face from these changes. I am grateful for the work, and teamwork, of concerned people across our borough

Grenfell: Words cannot express my horror and disbelief. Sirajul Islam, my Deputy Mayor, and I have been very engaged since the fire happened. Aside from the natural human reactions we offered support and staff – 6 officers were deployed, and can I express gratitude – and our officers, and those at partner RPs, have carried out massive further checks of the fire safety of our social housing. The safety of our residents is not an area for compromise, and there has been a further review of fire safety, particularly of tall blocks and blocks with cladding. Interim and longer term solutions to any problems found will be carried out. Fire safety guidance may need to be reviewed. A note has gone to members more comprehensively setting out our actions to date. I am concerned about a whole range of matters. This includes the impact of deregulation – who holds the records and carries out the impartial and thorough inspections, and who can access this information? And I have to report that we currently know very little about the private sector housing in our borough. Who should know (I think we would be obvious holders of information) and who should be responsible for holding those building standards accountable?

Manchester & London Attacks: These have obviously shaken many of us up. I attended a number of vigils. Myself and the Deputy Mayor and Asma Begum and the Speaker have been involved in community reassurance events, including following the attack at Finsbury Park Mosque. I have, on a related matter, been talking with the Deputy Mayor for policing about further police reorganisation and its impact on our borough.

ASB/crime: We recently launched our new ASB policy, and we have welcomed our new Divisional Director for Community Safety, Ann Corbett, previously of Lambeth. I am frustrated that we may not be doing enough. We are buying – through Tower Hamlets Homes – extra police and I am looking at funding more, properly accountable and tasked for local policing priorities. We are refreshing our enforcement functions, and I am determined that we will improve our ‘toolkit’ to assist with ASB. However, I am equally sure that the Council alone cannot solve this, and it will need many agencies and, ultimately, for those who misbehave to learn greater respect and, perhaps, a sense of shared responsibility towards the rest of us

Acid Attacks: There has been particular anxiety lately, with national media interest, at the rise in ‘acid attacks’, in which a noxious or corrosive liquid is thrown or sprayed in the face of a victim, either in pure malice or to enable another offence such as robbery. I have written to the Home Secretary, spoken with the local police, attended a large public meeting, issued media statements and worked with officers and others to devise solutions and raise, without alarming people, awareness and avoidance of risk. This remains a problem, and solutions are varied. Exemplary punishment is one element. As is the accurate flow of information, so that we remain informed and better prepared, and not misinformed. I will continue to press for a series of measures, and welcome cross-party engagement and support.

Best Value Improvement Board: The BVIP has met twice, and is developing a work programme of concluding the outstanding work from the Improvement Plan with the Commissioners and developing further targets and scrutiny to help with our journey to excellence. It is disappointing that Independent members have, so far, failed to turn up.

LGA: I attended the LGA conference, in Birmingham and was a speaker with others on our journey of improvement and the experience of intervention.

OFSTED Children’s Social Care: Our Childrens Services Improvement Board has met three times, and is overseeing, under its independent Chair, the transformation of our children’s social care service. The changes required reach into the wider council and I look forward to debating them further with members, and others, as we make progress from a difficult situation. May I thank officers and others who are part of this process.

CTRS: The Council Tax Reduction Scheme changes for self-employed people have caused some anxiety. Anybody whose income falls below the assumed level should appeal, and be assessed, we have put in place support to ensure that anybody who faces hardship as a result of this change is protected and I would urge members to encourage constituents in this position to do this. Additionally, we are keeping in touch with affected residents.

Civic Centre: A report is about to be received by the Cabinet, and for scrutiny, to move to the next stage

Staff: There are interviews in early August for Growth & Economic Development. Aman Dalvi has left and his post has been temporarily filled by Ann Sutcliffe. Ann Corbett has now started as our Divisional Director for Community Safety. Heater Daley has started as our Divisional Director of Human Resources and Governance. And I welcome the appointment of Janet Fasan as our new Head of Law. Asmat Hussain has started as our Director of Governance and Monitoring Officer. Filling this post after a gap is an overdue and good thing. Graham White has now left, and I am grateful for his work.

Mela & Altab Ali Day: The Mela this year was a major success. Our second Altab Ali day commemoration also took place. This was somewhat overshadowed by the General election but was well attended.

Ask the Mayor: There was an 'Ask the Mayor' event on 21st June at Hub67, at Fish Island. I have attended numerous other events and meetings, as listed.

Cabinet and Mayoral Decisions: Cabinet has met multiple times since my last report and considered a number of matters, with decisions published on the Council's website. In addition, Mayoral Decisions have been signed on:
