This premises first came to notice of Tower Hamlets Police Licensing when we were contacted by the MET’s Sexual Exploitation Team. They had intelligence that an “Ugg Party”, which is a party where underage girls (under 18) are brought to a party to have sex with older men, was going to take place at the venue. Typically such parties have alcohol and drugs to give to the young girls to make it easier for the males to have sex with them.

The event was going to be a Halloween Party on the 28th October, starting at 9pm and finishing at 4am. An advert for the event was on the window of Paradise Cottages, which I have added to this review.

As can be seen from the advert, it is described as taking place at Paradise Cottage Bar and VIP area. The premises is a Kebab shop with two small seating areas. It is not a bar and does not have a late night alcohol license.

The advert states that the dress code is “Smart, Sexy, Fancy Dress” and the music line up is described as having DJ’s and playing Hip Hop, Trap and Afrobeat music. The advert is in the opinion of the Police clearly designed to attract young people to a late night party.

As a response to the risk to the young girls attending this venue an operation was initiated that was designed to prevent harm coming to the young girls, and gather as much intelligence as possible on those organising the party so action could be taken against them.

At around 7pm on the evening of the 28th of October, the night of the party, Tower Hamlets Police Licensing with one of the detectives from the Sexual Exploitation Team conducted a covert visit to the Paradise Cottages to see if the party was taking place and to gain information on who was there, and speak to the owner and manager to see what they knew of the event. As we were at the venue staff were busy putting up a temporary wall to separate the counter of the premises from the area where the party was going to take place. This partition was made of wood and looked very flimsy. Inside the venue the area that had been set aside for the part was being decorated with plastic skeletons and other Halloween decorations.
At the premises I met the owner Mr Sibel Dogan as well as the person who had accepted the booking for this party a Mr Haci Mustafa Unlu. I explained to them that their venue Paradise Cottage did not have a late night license and could not sell alcohol or have regulated entertainment past midnight. I also told them that according to Tower Hamlets Council licensing the premises did not have a Designated Premises Supervisor (DPS) and so no licensable activity could take place until one was in place.

I also explained to them that they had not applied for a Temporary Event Notice so even as they did not have a DPS in place the party could not take place. Both Mr Dogan and Mr Unlu seemed upset by this and said that they had hosted three previous parties at the Paradise Cottages, and that they did have a valid license and a DPS. I pointed out that they had illegally hosted these events. They insisted that they did have a DPS and would get documentation for me to prove this.

While we waited I asked them to describe what the four licensing objectives were, and they could not. They demonstrated very little knowledge of the Licensing Act, the risks associated with running a late night party, or their responsibilities, which was deeply concerning.

Eventually they agreed that they did not have a DPS in place, and accepted that the party as advertised could not go ahead. They asked if they could continue to have background music and serve food. After consultation with the detective we agreed that this would be ok but that we would return to monitor.

I then clearly explained to them the need to apply to have a DPS appointed and the procedure for applying for a Temporary Event Notice if they wished to have an event in the future. I also explained their risks associated with this event and the responsibilities, which they aid they understood.

We returned to Paradise Cottages a couple of hours later, the venue was quite busy and had about 30 people at in the sectioned off area that had been set up for the party. These were mostly young men ages in their early 20’s. There some 18 year old girls also outside the venue. I felt that the people in the venue were waiting for us to leave so they could run their party, despite what we had told them. To have so many young people in the back of a kebab shop at 9pm on Halloween when it was clear they were expecting to have a party was clear evidence of this, especially when they could easily of gone to one of the numerous pubs and bars in the area that were having Halloween calibrations.

Due to the efforts of the officers in the operation in frustrating the “Ugg” party, the organisers of this party were forced to cancel the event and try to move it to another location. A statement from Detective Sergeant Penney who took part in the operation has been included in this review.

The premises next came to notice on the 27th November when there was a noise complaint about loud music coming from the premises. Tower Hamlets Enforcement Officers attended and their report is below:

Below is a exert from the out of hours noise logs to the THEO’s on 27/11/17.

477 Bethnal Green Road, London, E2 9QH - Paradise Cottages

Complainant is reporting of a party taking place from a bar called the Paradise Cottages, can hear loud music from venue as its doors are open. Disturbance has been going on for the past 45 mins.

Complainant called back at 01.25

called complainant @ 01.32 visit agreed, caller stated music gone up, unbearable and very distressed about the situation. officer tried to venue but no answer.

No visit made to complainant as officers were greeted by the organisers in the street outside the venue. Officers witnessed loud amplified music from street. There were people coming in and out of the premises which was one of the cause for noise to emanate from the venue which caused noise nuisance. Officers spoke to a male by the name of Tony who stated he wasn't made aware of the licensing hour by the owner.

There was a smell of cannabis emanating from the venue. Officers noticed a sign on the windows of Paradise Cottage promoting venue for hire. The displayed sign had following information:

Venue for Hire

All party Occasions
07534 729628
0207 7296119

All Promoters welcome

Refer to Licensing team to investigate further.

NO SN.

The venue had not applied for a Temporary Event Notice and therefore this was an illegal event.

Then on the second of December 2017 there was another call to Tower Hamlets Noise Team regarding a noise nuisance coming from the venue. The details of the report are again listed below:

Comp is reporting of a party taking place from a place called Paradise Cottages, can hear loud music from venue as its doors are open. Disturbance has been going on for the past 1 hour.

Tower Hamlets Enforcement Officers visited Paradise Cottages and reported that Doors are being left open which increases the level of the music and people are spilling onto the street. All of this is preventing sleep.

Music levels rise considerably when the door is open but when visited door being kept shut and no one in alleyway. Spoke to manager of venue who will ensure door is kept closed.
It is clear to Police that the owners and managers of Paradise Cottages have a complete disregard for the licensing act, their license, and the residents of Tower Hamlets. By having unlicensed events in their venue that have caused alarm and distress to local residents so soon after being told by Police what they were allowed and not allowed to do demonstrates this.

It appears that they are trying to use the venue as unlicensed club, for which they do not have a license for. They do not have the relevant conditions on their license to ensure that late night events are run safely and effectively. There is no evidence of a security plan, of any risk assessments being carried out, or any thought for how running these events would affect local residents.

From the first illegal event in November there appears to be nobody from the venue at this event to make sure it is run safely, one can only assume that is the case for the second illegal event as well. As the organiser of this event says to THEO’s that “he wasn’t made aware of the licensing hour by the owner”:

What is of more concern is that officers smelt cannabis coming from the venue, indicating illegal drug use inside.

This raises some disturbing questions.

If this is the case what other illegal activities are taking place inside?

How many other illegal events have taken place at the venue that have not been reported to authorities?

The answer is that we simply do not know, and this represents a serious risk to those attending these events, as well as local residents. Tower Hamlets Police cannot trust the owner or manager of the venue as they have demonstrated a complete disregard for their obligations as a premises license operator, despite clear and explicit instructions from the Police on their license and responsibilities.
We therefore have no choice but to ask that their premises license is revoked, as we do not believe that any conditions put on the license to mitigate the risks would be adhered to.

If however the committee was minded not to revoke the license we would ask that the hours are reduced to the councils framework hours for the Late Night Refreshment.

- Monday to Thursday - 23:00 hrs to 23:30 hrs
- Friday and Saturday - 23:00hrs to midnight

That the sale of alcohol and regulated entertainment is removed from the license.

The following conditions are added to the license:

1) A CCTV system to be put in place, the cameras are to be of sufficient quality so that peoples faces are clearly identifiable from the footage. The cameras are to be placed in such a way as they cover areas of the pub specified by the Police.

The system is to record the footage and to keep it for a minimum of 30 days and a copy off CCTV footage is to be made available to Police or the Local Authority upon request and supplied within 24 hours.

While the premises are open to the public a member of staff must be on duty who can operate the CCTV system.

3) A incident record book is to be kept at the premises, this book will record all refusals of the sale of alcohol, all disorder and crimes that occur either in the premises or involve the premises customers, or any other incident of note. The incident book is to be signed off every day by the manager even if there is nothing to report.

This statement refers to Police Operation an investigation into organised unlawful child sex parties and the suspected involvement of the Paradise Cottages, 477 Bethnal Green Road, Bethnal Green, London E2 9QH. The premises being a Turkish restaurant.

The investigation team became aware that a Halloween party had been arranged for Saturday 28th October 2017 at the Paradise Cottages and that young females potentially at risk would be in attendance. Enquiries revealed that the party had been advertised on the window of the premises detailing an adult’s only ticket only Halloween party at the premises and the web page to view to book tickets.

On Saturday 28th October 2017 Officers from the Child Sexual Exploitation Team, Neighbourhood Police Team and the Licencing Team attended the Paradise Cottages and engaged with the staff at the venue. A party was being held at the rear of the restaurant with party goers in attendance. Potential licencing offences were identified and advice was given to the owner/manager regarding the continuance of the party and the importance of authorities preventing venues hosting these type of events. The manager also stated that they had had two similar parties previously.

Without Police intervention there was a real and serious risk of the party taking place. As a result no young females were seen or identified as being at risk.

Appendix 3
Dear Licensing,

As a Noise Officer within Environmental Health I have given due regard to the License Review initiated by the Police with respect to 477 Bethnal Green Road I consider the impact of the licensing objectives, particular for Environmental Health the prevention of public nuisance and the prevention of noise generated from within the premises or outside to be causing disturbance to people in the vicinity.

Since 16th July 2017 there have been several noise complaints reported to the Out of Hours (OOH) Noise Service, with most events in the last three months, as follows:-

(1) 16th July 2017 (Ref:267239). Called complainant at 0300 hour and a visit was agreed. Complainant stated that the noise could be heard from the street level. OOH Officers visited the road where loud music could be heard escaping from the building. Officers advised the event organiser that a complainant had been made and the music needed to be reduced and a warning letter was also issued to Mr Haci Mustafa.

(2) 26th November 2017 (Ref:272600). Complainant reported of a party taking place from a bar called the Paradise Cottages, as they can hear loud amplified music from venue as its doors are open. Disturbance has been going on for the past 45 mins. OOH Officers called the complainant at 22:34 hours and a visit was agreed. Officers attended perpetrators address as noise was heard by officers from street level. The club manager confirmed there was a private party and they have licence up to 1 am. They were informed by the OOH Officers to control the noise as it was causing nuisance to residents, every time someone opened the club door. At this time the Music noise levels were reduced and the manager took everyone inside.

(3) 27th November 2017 (Ref:272602). Complainant called the OOH Noise Service at 01:25 hours. At 01:32 officers arranged to visit. No visit was made to the complainant’s as OOH Officers were greeted by the perpetrators in the street outside the venue, where officers witnessed loud amplified music from street coming from 477 Bethnal Green Road. People were coming in and out of the premises which was one of the causes for noise to emanate from the venue causing noise nuisance. Officers spoke to a male by the name of Tony who stated he wasn’t made aware of the licensing hour by the owner. Officers also smelt cannabis emanating from the venue.

(4) 2nd December 2017 (Ref:272843). Complainant called the OOH Noise Service at 00:02 and reporting of a party taking place from a place called Paradise Cottages saying that they can hear loud music from the venue as its doors are open. It was advised by the complainant that the disturbance has been going on for the past 1 hour. Officers called the complainant at 00:17 and a visit was agreed. The complainant advised that when the doors of the premises were open it increases the level of the music and people are spilling onto the street. All of this is this is preventing the complainant from sleeping. When officers visited the door was shut and no one was in the alleyway. Officers spoke to manager of venue who will ensure door is kept closed.

(5) 3rd December 2017 (Ref:272881). Complainant is reporting a party which is taking place from paradise cottages, they have their door open, hear music and human voices and it was advised that the parties tend to go on throughout early morning. OOH Officers called the complainant at 00:16 hours but the noise had stopped. Complainant contacted but was on another call message left on voicemail to call back. Called complainant back at 00:19 hour who stated the party finished five minutes prior thus noise abated. Advised to call back if noise restarts.

Several warning letters have been issued to the premises for late night events and noise nuisance, and when noise complaints have been received the premises has been asked to reduce noise levels and close the premises entrance/exit doors, which they have done. However, the premises have not shown they have put any noise mitigation measures in place to minimise noise nuisance to local residents, and adhere to the License Objective for the Prevention of Public Nuisance.

CONCLUSION

Environmental Protection recommends that the Committee considers the removal of the Provision of Regulated Entertainment (recorded music only) from the License, or at minimum the reduction of the hours for Regulated Entertainment for Monday to Saturday 11:00 hours until Midnight, Sunday Noon until 23:30 hours, to coincide with the hours for the Sale of Alcohol.

Kind regards

Appendix 5
The review process

11.1 The proceedings set out in the 2003 Act for reviewing premises licences and club premises certificates represent a key protection for the community where problems associated with the licensing objectives occur after the grant or variation of a premises licence or club premises certificate.

11.2 At any stage, following the grant of a premises licence or club premises certificate, a responsible authority, or any other person, may ask the licensing authority to review the licence or certificate because of a matter arising at the premises in connection with any of the four licensing objectives.

11.3 An application for review may be made electronically, provided that the licensing authority agrees and the applicant submits a subsequent hard copy of the application, if the licensing authority requires one. The licensing authority may also agree in advance that the application need not be given in hard copy. However, these applications are outside the formal electronic application process and may not be submitted via GOV.UK or the licensing authority’s electronic facility.

11.4 In addition, the licensing authority must review a licence if the premises to which it relates was made the subject of a closure order by the police based on nuisance or disorder and the magistrates’ court has sent the authority the relevant notice of its determination, or if the police have made an application for summary review on the basis that premises are associated with serious crime and/or disorder.

11.5 Any responsible authority under the 2003 Act may apply for a review of a premises licence or club premises certificate. Therefore, the relevant licensing authority may apply for a review if it is concerned about licensed activities at premises and wants to intervene early without waiting for representations from other persons. However, it is not expected that licensing authorities should normally act as responsible authorities in applying for reviews on behalf of other persons, such as local residents or community groups. These individuals or groups are entitled to apply for a review for a licence or certificate in their own right if they have grounds to do so. It is also reasonable for licensing authorities to expect other responsible authorities to intervene where the basis for the intervention falls within the remit of that other authority. For example, the police should take appropriate steps where the basis for the review is concern about crime and disorder or the sexual exploitation of children. Likewise, where there are concerns about noise nuisance, it is reasonable to expect the local authority exercising environmental health functions for the area in which the premises are situated to make the application for review.
11.6 Where the relevant licensing authority does act as a responsible authority and applies for a review, it is important that a separation of responsibilities is still achieved in this process to ensure procedural fairness and eliminate conflicts of interest. As outlined previously in Chapter 9 of this Guidance, the distinct functions of acting as licensing authority and responsible authority should be exercised by different officials to ensure a separation of responsibilities. Further information on how licensing authorities should achieve this separation of responsibilities can be found in Chapter 9, paragraphs 9.13 to 9.19 of this Guidance.

11.7 In every case, any application for a review must relate to particular premises in respect of which there is a premises licence or club premises certificate and must be relevant to the promotion of one or more of the licensing objectives. Following the grant or variation of a licence or certificate, a complaint regarding a general issue in the local area relating to the licensing objectives, such as a general (crime and disorder) situation in a town centre, should generally not be regarded as a relevant representation unless it can be positively tied or linked by a causal connection to particular premises, which would allow for a proper review of the licence or certificate. For instance, a geographic cluster of complaints, including along transport routes related to an individual public house and its closing time, could give grounds for a review of an existing licence as well as direct incidents of crime and disorder around a particular public house.

11.8 Where a licensing authority receives a geographic cluster of complaints, the authority may consider whether these issues are the result of the cumulative impact of licensed premises within the area concerned. In such circumstances, the authority may also consider whether it would be appropriate to include a special policy relating to cumulative impact within its licensing policy statement. Further guidance on cumulative impact policies can be found in Chapter 14 of this Guidance.

11.9 Representations must be made in writing and may be amplified at the subsequent hearing or may stand in their own right. Additional representations which do not amount to an amplification of the original representation may not be made at the hearing. Representations may be made electronically, provided the licensing authority agrees and the applicant submits a subsequent hard copy, unless the licensing authority waives this requirement.

11.10 Where authorised persons and responsible authorities have concerns about problems identified at premises, it is good practice for them to give licence holders early warning of their concerns and the need for improvement, and where possible they should advise the licence or certificate holder of the steps they need to take to address those concerns. A failure by the holder to respond to such warnings is expected to lead to a decision to apply for a review. Co-operation at a local level in promoting the licensing objectives should be encouraged and reviews should not be used to undermine this co-operation.
11.11 If the application for a review has been made by a person other than a responsible authority (for example, a local resident, residents’ association, local business or trade association), before taking action the licensing authority must first consider whether the complaint being made is relevant, frivolous, vexatious or repetitious. Further guidance on determining whether a representation is frivolous or vexatious can be found in Chapter 9 of this Guidance (paragraphs 9.4 to 9.10).

Repetitious grounds of review
11.12 A repetitious ground is one that is identical or substantially similar to:

- a ground for review specified in an earlier application for review made in relation to the same premises licence or certificate which has already been determined; or
- representations considered by the licensing authority when the premises licence or certificate was granted; or
- representations which would have been made when the application for the premises licence was first made and which were excluded then by reason of the prior issue of a provisional statement; and, in addition to the above grounds, a reasonable interval has not elapsed since that earlier review or grant.

11.13 Licensing authorities are expected to be aware of the need to prevent attempts to review licences merely as a further means of challenging the grant of the licence following the failure of representations to persuade the licensing authority on an earlier occasion. It is for licensing authorities themselves to judge what should be regarded as a reasonable interval in these circumstances. However, it is recommended that more than one review originating from a person other than a responsible authority in relation to a particular premises should not be permitted within a 12 month period on similar grounds save in compelling circumstances or where it arises following a closure order.

11.14 The exclusion of a complaint on the grounds that it is repetitious does not apply to responsible authorities which may make more than one application for a review of a licence or certificate within a 12 month period.

11.15 When a licensing authority receives an application for a review from a responsible authority or any other person, or in accordance with the closure procedures described in Part 8 of the 2003 Act (for example, closure orders), it must arrange a hearing. The arrangements for the hearing must follow the provisions set out in regulations. These regulations are published on the Government’s legislation website (www.legislation.gov.uk). It is particularly important that the premises licence holder is made fully aware of any representations made in respect of the premises, any evidence supporting the representations and that the holder or the holder’s legal representative has therefore been able to prepare a response.
Powers of a licensing authority on the determination of a review

11.16 The 2003 Act provides a range of powers for the licensing authority which it may exercise on determining a review where it considers them appropriate for the promotion of the licensing objectives.

11.17 The licensing authority may decide that the review does not require it to take any further steps appropriate to promoting the licensing objectives. In addition, there is nothing to prevent a licensing authority issuing an informal warning to the licence holder and/or to recommend improvement within a particular period of time. It is expected that licensing authorities will regard such informal warnings as an important mechanism for ensuring that the licensing objectives are effectively promoted and that warnings should be issued in writing to the licence holder.

11.18 However, where responsible authorities such as the police or environmental health officers have already issued warnings requiring improvement – either orally or in writing – that have failed as part of their own stepped approach to address concerns, licensing authorities should not merely repeat that approach and should take this into account when considering what further action is appropriate. Similarly, licensing authorities may take into account any civil immigration penalties which a licence holder has been required to pay for employing an illegal worker.

11.19 Where the licensing authority considers that action under its statutory powers is appropriate, it may take any of the following steps:
- modify the conditions of the premises licence (which includes adding new conditions or any alteration or omission of an existing condition), for example, by reducing the hours of opening or by requiring door supervisors at particular times;
- exclude a licensable activity from the scope of the licence, for example, to exclude the performance of live music or playing of recorded music (where it is not within the incidental live and recorded music exemption);*\textsuperscript{10}\)
- remove the designated premises supervisor, for example, because they consider that the problems are the result of poor management;
- suspend the licence for a period not exceeding three months;
- revoke the licence.

11.20 In deciding which of these powers to invoke, it is expected that licensing authorities should so far as possible seek to establish the cause or causes of the concerns that the representations identify. The remedial action taken should generally be directed at these causes and should always be no more than an appropriate and proportionate response to address the causes of concern that instigated the review.

11.21 For example, licensing authorities should be alive to the possibility that the removal and replacement of the designated premises supervisor may be sufficient to remedy a problem where the cause of the identified problem directly relates to poor management decisions made by that individual.
11.22 Equally, it may emerge that poor management is a direct reflection of poor company practice or policy and the mere removal of the designated premises supervisor may be an inadequate response to the problems presented. Indeed, where subsequent review hearings are generated by representations, it should be rare merely to remove a succession of designated premises supervisors as this would be a clear indication of deeper problems that impact upon the licensing objectives.

11.23 Licensing authorities should also note that modifications of conditions and exclusions of licensable activities may be imposed either permanently or for a temporary period of up to three months. Temporary changes or suspension of the licence for up to three months could impact on the business holding the licence financially and would only be expected to be pursued as an appropriate means of promoting the licensing objectives or preventing illegal working. So, for instance, a licence could be suspended for a weekend as a means of deterring the holder from allowing the problems that gave rise to the review to happen again. However, it will always be important that any detrimental financial impact that may result from a licensing authority’s decision is appropriate and proportionate to the promotion of the licensing objectives and for the prevention of illegal working in licensed premises. But where premises are found to be trading irresponsibly, the licensing authority should not hesitate, where appropriate to do so, to take tough action to tackle the problems at the premises and, where other measures are deemed insufficient, to revoke the licence.

Reviews arising in connection with crime

11.24 A number of reviews may arise in connection with crime that is not directly connected with licensable activities. For example, reviews may arise because of drugs problems at the premises, money laundering by criminal gangs, the sale of contraband or stolen goods, the sale of firearms, or the sexual exploitation of children. Licensing authorities do not have the power to judge the criminality or otherwise of any issue. This is a matter for the courts. The licensing authority’s role when determining such a review is not therefore to establish the guilt or innocence of any individual but to ensure the promotion of the crime prevention objective.

11.25 Reviews are part of the regulatory process introduced by the 2003 Act and they are not part of criminal law and procedure. There is, therefore, no reason why representations giving rise to a review of a premises licence need be delayed pending the outcome of any criminal proceedings. Some reviews will arise after the conviction in the criminal courts of certain individuals, but not all. In any case, it is for the licensing authority to determine whether the problems associated with the alleged crimes are taking place on the premises and affecting the promotion of the licensing objectives. Where a review follows a conviction, it would also not be for the licensing authority to attempt to go beyond any finding by the courts, which should be treated as a matter of undisputed evidence before them.
11.26 Where the licensing authority is conducting a review on the grounds that the premises have been used for criminal purposes, its role is solely to determine what steps should be taken in connection with the premises licence, for the promotion of the crime prevention objective. It is important to recognise that certain criminal activity or associated problems may be taking place or have taken place despite the best efforts of the licence holder and the staff working at the premises and despite full compliance with the conditions attached to the licence. In such circumstances, the licensing authority is still empowered to take any appropriate steps to remedy the problems. The licensing authority’s duty is to take steps with a view to the promotion of the licensing objectives and the prevention of illegal working in the interests of the wider community and not those of the individual licence holder.

11.27 There is certain criminal activity that may arise in connection with licensed premises which should be treated particularly seriously. These are the use of the licensed premises:

- for the sale and distribution of drugs controlled under the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971 and the laundering of the proceeds of drugs crime;
- for the sale and distribution of illegal firearms;
- for the evasion of copyright in respect of pirated or unlicensed films and music, which does considerable damage to the industries affected;
- for the illegal purchase and consumption of alcohol by minors which impacts on the health, educational attainment, employment prospects and propensity for crime of young people;
- for prostitution or the sale of unlawful pornography;
- by organised groups of paedophiles to groom children;
- as the base for the organisation of criminal activity, particularly by gangs;
- for the organisation of racist activity or the promotion of racist attacks;
- for employing a person who is disqualified from that work by reason of their immigration status in the UK;
- for unlawful gambling; and
- for the sale or storage of smuggled tobacco and alcohol.

11.28 It is envisaged that licensing authorities, the police, the Home Office (Immigration Enforcement) and other law enforcement agencies, which are responsible authorities, will use the review procedures effectively to deter such activities and crime. Where reviews arise and the licensing authority determines that the crime prevention objective is being undermined through the premises being used to further crimes, it is expected that revocation of the licence – even in the first instance – should be seriously considered.
Review of a premises licence following closure order

11.29 Licensing authorities are subject to certain timescales, set out in the legislation, for the review of a premises licence following a closure order under section 80 of the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014 or section 38 of and Schedule 6 to the Immigration Act 2016. The relevant time periods run concurrently and are as follows:

• when the licensing authority receives notice that a magistrates’ court has made a closure order it has 28 days to determine the licence review – the determination must be made before the expiry of the 28th day after the day on which the notice is received;
• the hearing must be held within ten working days, the first of which is the day after the day the notice from the magistrates’ court is received;
• notice of the hearing must be given no later than five working days before the first hearing day (there must be five clear working days between the giving of the notice and the start of the hearing).

Review of a premises licence following persistent sales of alcohol to children

11.30 The Government recognises that the majority of licensed premises operate responsibly and undertake due diligence checks on those who appear to be under the age of 18 at the point of sale (or 21 and 25 where they operate a Challenge 21 or 25 scheme). Where these systems are in place, licensing authorities may wish to take a proportionate approach in cases where there have been two sales of alcohol within very quick succession of one another (e.g., where a new cashier has not followed policy and conformed with a store’s age verification procedures). However, where persistent sales of alcohol to children have occurred at premises, and it is apparent that those managing the premises do not operate a responsible policy or have not exercised appropriate due diligence, responsible authorities should consider taking steps to ensure that a review of the licence is the norm in these circumstances. This is particularly the case where there has been a prosecution for the offence under section 147A or a closure notice has been given under section 169A of the 2003 Act. In determining the review, the licensing authority should consider revoking the licence if it considers this appropriate.
Appendix 6
Crime and disorder

2.1 Licensing authorities should look to the police as the main source of advice on crime and disorder. They should also seek to involve the local Community Safety Partnership (CSP).

2.2 In the exercise of their functions, licensing authorities should seek to co-operate with the Security Industry Authority (“SIA”) as far as possible and consider adding relevant conditions to licences where appropriate. The SIA also plays an important role in preventing crime and disorder by ensuring that door supervisors are properly licensed and, in partnership with police and other agencies, that security companies are not being used as fronts for serious and organised criminal activity. This may include making specific enquiries or visiting premises through intelligence led operations in conjunction with the police, local authorities and other partner agencies. Similarly, the provision of requirements for door supervision may be appropriate to ensure that people who are drunk, drug dealers or people carrying firearms do not enter the premises and ensuring that the police are kept informed.

2.3 Conditions should be targeted on deterrence and preventing crime and disorder including the prevention of illegal working in licensed premises (see paragraph 10.10). For example, where there is good reason to suppose that disorder may take place, the presence of closed-circuit television (CCTV) cameras both inside and immediately outside the premises can actively deter disorder, nuisance, anti-social behaviour and crime generally. Some licence holders may wish to have cameras on their premises for the prevention of crime directed against the business itself, its staff, or its customers. But any condition may require a broader approach, and it may be appropriate to ensure that the precise location of cameras is set out on plans to ensure that certain areas are properly covered and there is no subsequent dispute over the terms of the condition.

2.4 The inclusion of radio links and ring-round phone systems should be considered an appropriate condition for public houses, bars and nightclubs operating in city and town centre leisure areas with a high density of licensed premises. These systems allow managers of licensed premises to communicate instantly with the police and facilitate a rapid response to any disorder which may be endangering the customers and staff on the premises.
2.5 Conditions relating to the management competency of designated premises supervisors should not normally be attached to premises licences. It will normally be the responsibility of the premises licence holder as an employer, and not the licensing authority, to ensure that the managers appointed at the premises are competent and appropriately trained. The designated premises supervisor is the key person who will usually be responsible for the day to day management of the premises by the premises licence holder, including the prevention of disorder. A condition of this kind may only be justified as appropriate in rare circumstances where it can be demonstrated that, in the circumstances associated with particular premises, poor management competency could give rise to issues of crime and disorder and public safety.

2.6 The prevention of crime includes the prevention of immigration crime including the prevention of illegal working in licensed premises. Licensing authorities should work with Home Office Immigration Enforcement, as well as the police, in respect of these matters. Licence conditions that are considered appropriate for the prevention of illegal working in licensed premises might include requiring a premises licence holder to undertake right to work checks on all staff employed at the licensed premises or requiring that a copy of any document checked as part of a right to work check are retained at the licensed premises.
6.1 Licensed premises, especially those offering late night / early morning entertainment, alcohol and refreshment for large numbers of people, can be a source of crime and disorder problems.

6.2 When addressing crime and disorder the applicant should initially identify any particular issues (having regard to their particular type of premises and / or activities) which are likely to adversely affect the promotion of the crime and disorder objective. Such steps as are required to deal with these identified issues should be included within the applications operating schedule. Where a Crime Prevention Officer from the Metropolitan Police makes recommendations for premises that relate to the licensing objectives, the operating schedule should normally incorporate the suggestions.

6.3 Applicants are recommended to seek advice from Council Officers and the Police as well as taking into account, as appropriate, local planning and transport policies, with tourism, cultural and crime prevention strategies, when preparing their plans and Schedules.

6.4 In addition to the requirements for the Licensing Authority to promote the licensing objectives, it also has a duty under Section 17 of the Crime and Disorder Act 1998 to do all it reasonably can to prevent crime and disorder in the Borough.

6.5 The Licensing Authority, if its discretion is engaged, will consider attaching Conditions to licences and permissions to deter and prevent crime and disorder both inside and immediately outside the premises and these may include Conditions drawn from the Model Pool of Conditions relating to Crime and Disorder given in Section 182 of the Licensing Act 200. (See Appendix 2.)

6.6 CCTV - The Licensing Authority, if its discretion is engaged, will attach conditions to licences, as appropriate where the conditions reflect local crime prevention strategies, for example the provision of closed circuit television cameras.

6.7 Touting - The Council has had a significant number of complaints relating to premises which are substantially or mainly restaurants where "outing" is a problem. Touting is soliciting for custom. Consequently, in relation to such premises the Licensing Authority, where its discretion is engaged will insert a standard condition that prohibits ‘outing’ as follows:–

1) No person shall be employed to solicit for custom or be permitted to solicit for custom for business for the premises in any public place within a 500 meters radius of the premises as shown edged red on the attached plan. (marked as Appendix -)

2) Clear Signage to be placed in the restaurant windows stating that the premises supports the Council’s ‘No Touting’ policy.
6.8 Street Furniture - This would include Advertising Boards, they are sometimes placed in such a way as to be a nuisance to the public on the highway, or they encourage the consumption of alcohol in areas that are not licensed. The Licensing Authority expects applicants to have ensured that they fully comply with the Council's rules relating to authorisation of obstructions on the highway and a licence permission to place advertising boards or street furniture on the highway should normally have been obtained from Tower Hamlets Markets Service before an application for a licence is made. Where proportionate and appropriate, and its discretion is engaged, the Licensing Authority will impose conditions in relation to street seats and tables or boards, including on private land.

6.9 Fly Posting - The Council has experienced significant problems with “fly posting” in relation to venues that offer entertainment. Fly posting is the unauthorised posting of posters / advertisements etc. Where it considers it appropriate and its discretion is engaged, the Licensing Authority will attach conditions relating to the control of fly posting to ensure that venues clearly prohibit all fly posting in their contract terms with others and they effectively enforce this control.

6.10 Responsible Drinking - The Licensing Authority expects alcohol to be promoted in a responsible way in the Borough. This should incorporate relevant industry standards, such as the Portman Group. Where appropriate and proportionate, if its discretion is engaged, the Licensing Authority will apply conditions to ensure responsible drinking. The Licensing Authority also recognises the positive contribution to best practice that "Pubwatch" and other similar schemes can make to achieving the licensing objectives and is committed to working with them.

Model Pool Conditions from the Licensing Act 2003, Section 182 Guidance are in Appendix 2.

6.11 Illicit Goods: Alcohol and Tobacco - The Licensing Authority will consider licence review applications where there is evidence that illicit alcohol has been offered for sale on the premises. Where other illicit goods, such as tobacco, have been found this may be considered by the Licensing Authority as evidence of poor management and have the potential to undermine the licensing objectives.

6.12 Illicit alcohol means alcohol that is, counterfeit, bears counterfeit duty stamps and or smuggled.

6.13 Illicit tobacco means, counterfeit, and/or non UK duty paid tobacco products.

6.14 Illicit goods mean articles that are counterfeit, that do not comply with the classification and labelling requirements of the Video Recordings Acts and/or that breach other Trading Standards legislation such as consumer safety and unfair commercial practices.
6.15 In particular the Licensing Authority is mindful of the advice provided in the guidance issued by the Home Office under section 182 of the Act “Reviews arising in connection with crime”.

6.16 The Licensing Authority will exercise its discretion to add a standard condition as follows:-

Smuggled goods
1) The premises licence holder and any other persons responsible for the purchase of stock shall not purchase any goods from door-to-door sellers other than from established traders who provide full receipts at the time of delivery.

2) The premises licence holder shall ensure that all receipts for goods bought include the following details:
   I. Seller’s name and address
   II. Seller’s company details, if applicable
   III. Seller’s VAT details, if applicable
   IV. Vehicle registration detail, if applicable

3) Legible copies of the documents referred to in 2) shall be retained on the premises and made available to officers on request.

4) The trader shall obtain and use a UV detection device to verify that duty stamps are valid.

5) Where the trader becomes aware that any alcohol may be not duty paid they shall inform the Police of this immediately.
Public nuisance

2.15 The 2003 Act enables licensing authorities and responsible authorities, through representations, to consider what constitutes public nuisance and what is appropriate to prevent it in terms of conditions attached to specific premises licences and club premises certificates. It is therefore important that in considering the promotion of this licensing objective, licensing authorities and responsible authorities focus on the effect of the licensable activities at the specific premises on persons living and working (including those carrying on business) in the area around the premises which may be disproportionate and unreasonable. The issues will mainly concern noise nuisance, light pollution, noxious smells and litter.

2.16 Public nuisance is given a statutory meaning in many pieces of legislation. It is however not narrowly defined in the 2003 Act and retains its broad common law meaning. It may include in appropriate circumstances the reduction of the living and working amenity and environment of other persons living and working in the area of the licensed premises. Public nuisance may also arise as a result of the adverse effects of artificial light, dust, odour and insects or where its effect is prejudicial to health.

2.17 Conditions relating to noise nuisance will usually concern steps appropriate to control the levels of noise emanating from premises. This might be achieved by a simple measure such as ensuring that doors and windows are kept closed after a particular time, or persons are not permitted in garden areas of the premises after a certain time. More sophisticated measures like the installation of acoustic curtains or rubber speaker mounts to mitigate sound escape from the premises may be appropriate. However, conditions in relation to live or recorded music may not be enforceable in circumstances where the entertainment activity itself is not licensable (see chapter 16). Any conditions appropriate to promote the prevention of public nuisance should be tailored to the type, nature and characteristics of the specific premises and its licensable activities. Licensing authorities should avoid inappropriate or disproportionate measures that could deter events that are valuable to the community, such as live music. Noise limiters, for example, are expensive to purchase and install and are likely to be a considerable burden for smaller venues.

2.18 As with all conditions, those relating to noise nuisance may not be appropriate in certain circumstances where provisions in other legislation adequately protect those living in the area of the premises. But as stated earlier in this Guidance, the approach of licensing authorities and responsible authorities should be one of prevention and when their powers are engaged, licensing authorities should be aware of the fact that other legislation may not adequately cover concerns raised in relevant representations and additional conditions may be appropriate.
2.19 Where applications have given rise to representations, any appropriate conditions should normally focus on the most sensitive periods. For example, the most sensitive period for people being disturbed by unreasonably loud music is at night and into the early morning when residents in adjacent properties may be attempting to go to sleep or are sleeping. This is why there is still a need for a licence for performances of live music between 11 pm and 8 am. In certain circumstances, conditions relating to noise emanating from the premises may also be appropriate to address any disturbance anticipated as customers enter and leave.

2.20 Measures to control light pollution will also require careful thought. Bright lighting outside premises which is considered appropriate to prevent crime and disorder may itself give rise to light pollution for some neighbours. Applicants, licensing authorities and responsible authorities will need to balance these issues.

2.21 Beyond the immediate area surrounding the premises, these are matters for the personal responsibility of individuals under the law. An individual who engages in anti-social behaviour is accountable in their own right. However, it would be perfectly reasonable for a licensing authority to impose a condition, following relevant representations, that requires the licence holder or club to place signs at the exits from the building encouraging patrons to be quiet until they leave the area, or that, if they wish to smoke, to do so at designated places on the premises instead of outside, and to respect the rights of people living nearby to a peaceful night.
Appendix 9
10.1 Licensed premises, especially those operating late at night and in the early hours of the morning, can cause a range of nuisances impacting on people living, working or sleeping in the vicinity of the premises.

10.2 The concerns mainly relate to noise nuisance both from the premises and customer egress, light pollution, noxious smells and disruption from parked vehicles and due regard will be taken of the impact these may have in considering a licence. The Licensing Authority will expect Operating Schedules to satisfactorily address these issues. Applicants are advised to seek advice from the Council’s Environmental Health Officers before preparing their plans and Schedules.

10.3 The Licensing Authority, where its discretion is engaged, will consider, where appropriate, attaching conditions to licences and permissions to prevent the problems identified in 8.2, and these may include conditions drawn from the Model Pool of Conditions in Appendix 2.

Guidance Issued by the Home Office under Section 182 of the Licensing Act 2003

Protection of children from harm

2.22 The protection of children from harm includes the protection of children from moral, psychological and physical harm. This includes not only protecting children from the harms associated directly with alcohol consumption but also wider harms such as exposure to strong language and sexual expletives (for example, in the context of exposure to certain films or adult entertainment). Licensing authorities must also consider the need to protect children from sexual exploitation when undertaking licensing functions.

2.23 The Government believes that it is completely unacceptable to sell alcohol to children. Conditions relating to the access of children where alcohol is sold and which are appropriate to protect them from harm should be carefully considered. Moreover, conditions restricting the access of children to premises should be strongly considered in circumstances where:

- adult entertainment is provided;
- a member or members of the current management have been convicted for serving alcohol to minors or with a reputation for allowing underage drinking (other than in the context of the exemption in the 2003 Act relating to 16 and 17 year olds consuming beer, wine and cider when accompanied by an adult during a table meal);
- it is known that unaccompanied children have been allowed access;
- there is a known association with drug taking or dealing; or
- in some cases, the premises are used exclusively or primarily for the sale of alcohol for consumption on the premises.

2.24 It is also possible that activities, such as adult entertainment, may take place at certain times on premises but not at other times. For example, premises may operate as a café bar during the day providing meals for families but also provide entertainment with a sexual content after 8.00pm. It is not possible to give an exhaustive list of what amounts to entertainment or services of an adult or sexual nature. Applicants, responsible authorities and licensing authorities will need to consider this point carefully. This would broadly include topless bar staff, striptease, lap-, table- or pole-dancing, performances involving feigned violence or horrific incidents, feigned or actual sexual acts or fetishism, or entertainment involving strong and offensive language.
2.25 Applicants must be clear in their operating schedules about the activities and times at which the events would take place to help determine when it is not appropriate for children to enter the premises. Consideration should also be given to the proximity of premises to schools and youth clubs so that applicants take appropriate steps to ensure that advertising relating to their premises, or relating to events at their premises, is not displayed at a time when children are likely to be near the premises.

2.26 Licensing authorities and responsible authorities should expect applicants, when preparing an operating schedule or club operating schedule, to set out the steps to be taken to protect children from harm when on the premises.

2.27 Conditions, where they are appropriate, should reflect the licensable activities taking place on the premises. In addition to the mandatory condition regarding age verification, other conditions relating to the protection of children from harm can include:

- restrictions on the hours when children may be present;
- restrictions or exclusions on the presence of children under certain ages when particular specified activities are taking place;
- restrictions on the parts of the premises to which children may have access;
- age restrictions (below 18);
- restrictions or exclusions when certain activities are taking place;
- requirements for an accompanying adult (including for example, a combination of requirements which provide that children under a particular age must be accompanied by an adult); and full exclusion of people under 18 from the premises when any licensable activities are taking place.

2.28 Please see also Chapter 10 for details about the Licensing Act 2003 (Mandatory Licensing Conditions) Order 2010.
2.29 Licensing authorities should give considerable weight to representations about child protection matters. In addition to the responsible authority whose functions relate directly to child protection, the Director of Public Health may also have access to relevant evidence to inform such representations. These representations may include, amongst other things, the use of health data about the harms that alcohol can cause to underage drinkers. Where a responsible authority, or other person, presents evidence to the licensing authority linking specific premises with harms to children (such as ambulance data or emergency department attendances by persons under 18 years old with alcohol-related illnesses or injuries) this evidence should be considered, and the licensing authority should also consider what action is appropriate to ensure this licensing objective is effectively enforced. In relation to applications for the grant of a licence in areas where evidence is presented on high levels of alcohol-related harms in persons aged under 18, it is recommended that the licensing authority considers what conditions may be appropriate to ensure that this objective is promoted effectively.

2.30 The 2003 Act provides that, where a premises licence or club premises certificate authorises the exhibition of a film, it must include a condition requiring the admission of children to films to be restricted in accordance with recommendations given either by a body designated under section 4 of the Video Recordings Act 1984 specified in the licence (the British Board of Film Classification is currently the only body which has been so designated) or by the licensing authority itself. Further details are given in Chapter 10.

2.31 Theatres may present a range of diverse activities and entertainment including, for example, variety shows incorporating adult entertainment. It is appropriate in these cases for a licensing authority to consider restricting the admission of children in such circumstances. Entertainments may also be presented at theatres specifically for children. It will be appropriate to consider whether a condition should be attached to a premises licence or club premises certificate which requires the presence of a sufficient number of adult staff on the premises to ensure the wellbeing of the children during any emergency.
Offences relating to the sale and supply of alcohol to children

2.32 Licensing authorities are expected to maintain close contact with the police, young offenders’ teams and trading standards officers (who can carry out test purchases under section 154 of the 2003 Act) about the extent of unlawful sales and consumption of alcohol by minors and to be involved in the development of any strategies to control or prevent these unlawful activities and to pursue prosecutions. Licensing authorities, alongside the police, are prosecuting authorities for the purposes of these offences, except for the offences under section 147A (persistently selling alcohol to children). Where, as a matter of policy, warnings are given to retailers prior to any decision to prosecute in respect of an offence, it is important that each of the enforcement arms should be aware of the warnings each of them has given.

11 Prevention of Harm to Children

11.1 The wide range of premises that require licensing means that children can be expected to visit many of these, often on their own, for food and/or entertainment.

11.2 The Act does not prohibit children from having access to any licensed premises; the Council recognises that limitations may have to be considered where it appears necessary to protect children from harm.

11.3 Applicants are recommended to consult with the Area Child Protection Committee or such other body, as the Licensing Authority considers appropriate.

11.4 The Licensing Authority will judge the merits of each separate application before deciding whether to impose conditions limiting the access of children to individual premises. The following are examples of premises that will raise concern:

- Where there have been convictions for serving alcohol to minors or with a reputation for underage drinking
- With a known association with drug taking or dealing
- Where there is a strong element of gambling on the premises
- Where entertainment of an adult or sexual nature is provided
- Where irresponsible drinking is encouraged or permitted.

11.5 Where its discretion is engaged, the Licensing Authority will consider any of the following options when dealing with a licence application where limiting the access of children is considered necessary to prevent harm to children:

- Limitations on the hours when children may be present
- Limitations on ages below 18
- Limitations or exclusion when certain activities are taking place
- Requirements for an accompanying adult
- Full exclusion of people under 18 from 11.6 No conditions will be imposed requiring that children must be admitted to any premises and, where no limitation is imposed, this will be left to the discretion of the individual licensee.

11.7 The Act details a number of offences designed to protect children in licensed premises and the Licensing Authority will work closely with the police to ensure the appropriate enforcement of the law, especially relating to the sale and supply of alcohol to children.

11.8 All licence holders will be expected to comply the Portman Group Code of Practice, and in particular the Retailer Alert Bulletin.
11.9 The Licensing Authority expects all licensed suppliers of alcohol to have robust measures, effectively managed and monitored, in place to ensure that minors are fully protected from harm.

12 Access to Cinemas

12.1 Films cover a vast range of subjects, some of which deal with adult themes and / or contain, for example, scenes of horror or violence that may be considered unsuitable for children within certain age groups.

12.2 In order to prevent children from seeing such films, the Licensing Authority will impose conditions requiring licensees to restrict children from viewing age restricted films classified according to the recommendations of the BBFC, or the Council itself. The Licensing Authority will not consider reclassifying any films already classified by the BBFC. The Council will charge for classifying films, on a full cost recovery basis.

12.3 The Licensing Authority will classify films itself where it is satisfied that no BBFC classification exists. It will inform relevant licensee and require such classifications to be clearly contained in any advertising or informative material relating to such films.

13 Children and Public Entertainment

13.1 Many children go to see and / or take part in an entertainment arranged substantially for them. Consequently additional arrangements are required to safeguard them at such times.

13.2 Where 11.1 applies, and its discretion is engaged, the Licensing Authority will require the following arrangements in order to control their access and egress and to assure their safety:-

- An adult member of staff to be stationed in the vicinity of each of the exits from any level, subject to there being a minimum of one member of staff per 50 children or part thereof
- No child unless accompanied by an adult to be permitted in the front row of any balcony
- No standing to be permitted in any part of the auditorium during the Performance

13.3 Where children are taking part in any regulated entertainment, and its discretion is engaged, the Licensing Authority will require the operating schedule to clearly state the steps taken to assure their safety.

13.4 Where its authority is engaged, the Licensing Authority will consider attaching conditions to licences and permissions to prevent harm to children, and these may include conditions drawn from the Model Pool of Conditions in Appendix 2.
