Addendum to Appendix 2

This information was not available at the time of publication.

The additional moderation information below is related to Soundtek Carrom Club UK.
It was unclear initially whether Soundtak Carrom Club UK was a formally constituted organisation. However in discussion with colleagues from the third sector team and legal services, it was identified that they are a legal entity, although not a formally registered organisation. Therefore the organisation was reconsidered and its application moderated and scored as set out below

Soundtek Carrom Club UK	To hold a Carrom competition and cultural celebration day around this sport. To involve local young and elderly people in the game, which hopes to see young people disengaging from Anti-Social behaviour, and getting them interested in Carrom, as well as invite other members of the community to come and learn about and play Carrom	4480	33	• Answers were limited in identifying local issues that affect a range of people from different backgrounds or local broader community cohesion priorities. • The project identified engagement with a limited equality group, and didn't really make an argument in how people would be targeted especially as Carrom being a culture specific game. • The application was not able to demonstrate an adequate strategy for sustainability and was only based upon increasing and maintaining Carrom club membership

An amendment has been made below to the ineligibility criteria for 1 Love Community C.I.C.
This was due to an original table formatting issue that displayed the wrong information, which has now been corrected.
