

Mayor's Statement:

Mayor of Tower Hamlets – Statement on Tower Hamlets Response to the Refugee Crisis (September 2015)

East London has a proud history of providing a safe haven for refugees of war and conflict. The pictures we've seen over the recent weeks have shocked the nation and we have all been touched by the scenes of desperate refugees fleeing for their lives. London must play its part and Tower Hamlets will be at the forefront of London's response.

I am getting messages from individuals from across the Borough who want to help and to know what they can do. Irrespective of party affiliation I know my colleagues in the Council Chamber want to see us ready to play our full part in this humanitarian crisis.

The government commitment that Britain will take 20,000 refugees over five years is a start. But it isn't enough.

As Mayor of Tower Hamlets my immediate pledge is as follows:

- We will lobby Government to play a larger role in addressing this crisis by committing to take in more families and over a shorter timeframe.
- We will work with the international aid organisations, Government, government agencies, and appropriate voluntary organisations and other London local authorities to ensure that we are part of an effective response to this humanitarian crisis.
- We are happy, like other boroughs, to make an offer to receive families but we will need to see the details of the Government's offer of support before we can work out exactly how to do this, and how many we might help.
- We will lobby Government to make sufficient resources available to local authorities to ensure that we can make adequate provision for refugees and asylum seekers without adversely affecting services for our residents. Our offer to refugees would have no effect on scarce resources, such as our limited supply of social housing.
- We will urgently review how our various advice services and frontline housing, social service, educational and welfare services can best support incoming refugees.
- We will support community initiatives to collect funds and aid and to support refugees directly and through other means.

I will be introducing a motion at the next meeting of the Council on 16th September to enable a full debate to take place and an agreed Council position to be agreed. I will update this statement on a regular basis as it becomes clearer how we can turn our commitment to support the victims of this international crisis into positive action.

Agreed at Full Council (16th September 2016)

This Council resolves:

1. To call on the Mayor to explore all possible options with an aim to provide support for a small number of refugee families during this crisis.
2. To call on the Mayor to write to the Prime Minister, signed by all Group Leaders if possible, expressing the importance of leadership from central government and requesting that sufficient resources are made available to local authorities to enable us to make adequate provision for refugees and asylum seekers whilst ensuring that we meet our primary obligation to local residents.
3. To request that the Mayor updates the council on any developments and additional details with regard to the council's response to the crisis.
4. To work with charity groups and organisations across Tower Hamlets and London, particularly consulting and working together with Refugee Council and Refugee Task Force that Jeremy Corbyn has asked Yvette Cooper to lead on.
