OPPOSITION MOTION FOR DEBATE – BEST VALUE INSPECTIONS

Proposed by: Cllr Marc Francis

Seconded by: Cllr Sirajul Islam

This Council notes:

- April 2024 marks the 10th anniversary of the Government's decision to instruct PwC to undertake a 'best value inspection' of Tower Hamlets Council during Lutfur Rahman's first term as Executive Mayor;
- Despite opposition from Mayor Lutfur Rahman and Tower Hamlets Council corporately to this audit, PwC uncovered evidence of irregularity in the allocation of some grants and the disposal of some council-owned assets, as well as noting the allegations of possible fraudulent payments in the Youth Services Team that were subject to a separate police investigation;
- As a result of these findings, in December 2014, the former Secretary of State issued directions for independent Commissioners to be sent into Tower Hamlets Council to oversee the award of grants, the sale of assets, publicity and, the appointment of a permanent Chief Executive.
- In April 2015, following Mayor Lutfur Rahman's removal from office, the former Secretary of State issued further directions which gave the independent Commissioners the powers 'to ensure that there is effective financial management safeguarding the assets and financial integrity of the Authority' which amounted to the power to intervene in all significant financial transactions by the authority;
- Independent Commissioners finally ended their role in 2018 after Tower Hamlets Council under former Mayor John Biggs' leadership demonstrated significant progress in all the areas in which concerns had been raised by PwC and the Secretary of State;
- Mayor Lutfur Rahman and those around him have never publicly apologised to the people of Tower Hamlets for the issues revealed by the PwC audit;
- In September 2023, a Local Government 'Peer Review' identified some positives about Tower Hamlets Council since Lutfur Rahman's re-election as Executive Mayor, but also highlighted concerns about the number of senior staff who had left and whose roles had not been filled, the lack of women's voices in decision-making and the 'council within a council culture' created by the significantly expanded Mayor's Office;
- In December 2023, Tower Hamlets Council published an 'action plan' in response to the LGA Peer Review Team's concerns without having spoken to opposition councillors about its content, and which will not properly address concerns about governance raised;
- At a Cabinet meeting in January 2024, the Mayor claimed that the LGA Peer Review Team's criticisms were actually about the governing culture under former Mayor John Biggs, which wasn't the case;

- On 22nd February 2024, the Minister of State for Local Government announced that he was instructing an independent team led by former Chief Executive of Newham Council Kim Bromley-Derry CBE DL to undertake a further ‘best value inspection’ of Tower Hamlets Council with immediate effect, including of its leadership, governance, organisational culture and use of resources;
- The inspection team has been specifically asked to look at the strengths and weaknesses of the audit and scrutiny functions, the appointment to senior management posts; the expansion of the Mayor’s Office and use of political advisors; policy and practice in grant-making and “the use of resources for elections and the maintenance of the independence of the Returning Officer”.

This Council believes;

- It should be a concern for Mayor Lutfur Rahman and the 24 Aspire Party councillors that the manner in which they lead Tower Hamlets Council means it is again subject to an independent ‘best value inspection’ under their political leadership;
- There is now a serious risk that the Secretary of State will again decide to send Commissioners in to oversee spending, sales of assets, governance and the forthcoming elections, including the General Election and the 2026 local elections;
- Having Commissioners run Tower Hamlets Council again is not in the interest of our residents as it takes decision-making out of the hands of democratically-elected members;
- The person best placed to stop Commissioners being sent in is Mayor Lutfur Rahman, through making a fundamental change in the manner in which he leads Tower Hamlets Council.

This Council resolves:

- To call on Mayor Lutfur Rahman to reduce the number of political advisors and consultants in the Mayor’s Office and remove any media/communications staff from its line-management;
- To call on the Chief Executive to consult with opposition councillors on the actions needed to give confidence to the public that there will be a significant enhancement of the scrutiny and audit functions, including acting on the LGA Peer Review Team’s recommendation that the Audit Committee and Overview & Scrutiny Committee should be chaired by Opposition councillors;
- To call on Mayor Lutfur Rahman and the Chief Executive to fully and immediately comply with any requests for information from the ‘best value inspection’ team;
- To call on the Monitoring Officer to ensure there is full transparency in political decision-making, including by providing elected members with the legal advice obtained at the request of Mayor Lutfur Rahman in relation to his powers in 2022 and 2023;

- To call on the Chief Executive to commence an open and independent process for making appointments to the Women's Commission which is being established to address the absence of female voices in decision-making by Mayor Lutfur Rahman and his Cabinet.
